DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. Applicant's submission of Formal Drawings on March 25, 2002 have entered. However, the figures fail to include a reference number cited in the specification ("46", as cited in page 10, line 6 and page 10, line 14).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. Patent No. 6,681,229 (hereinafter "Cason") in view of U.S. Patent No. 6,668,253 (hereinafter "Thompson").

Cason discloses a requisition and procurement system comprising a back end procurement system (382); a front-end requisition and catalog system (see column 9, lines 13-20); and a chart of accounts (see column 9, lines 29-31).

Cason fails to expressly disclose first and second charts of accounts with an extract utility for a group of companies.

Thompson teaches an enterprise information management system that combining charts of accounts for various organizations (see column 1, lines 38-54; see also columns 25 and 26).

Art Unit: 3627

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Cason with account consolidation system of Thompson, because consolidation of accounts reduces time and labor (see Thompson, column 1k lines 30-34).
